CHICAGOANS HOOK PRIZE FISH HERE OVER WEEK-END

Big Fellows Worth $200 Are Still at Large in Local Lakes

One hundred four prize fishes swimmin' in the lake—
Five of them were caught—that left 99.

It doesn't rhyme but it tells what is happening to some of the $1,900 worth of prize fish planted in the local lakes May 22 by Antioch Lions Club with business firms and resort owners and the Chicago Evening American co-operating. The first catch was made by J. C. Kocian, Chicago, who hooked a $5 bluegill two hours after it was released in Lake Killarney.

Over the week-end four Chicago anglers pulled tagged fish from the waters for a total of $25 prizes—three $5 fish, two bluegills and a crappie, and one crappie tagged for $10.

The lucky fishermen this week were: Emil Stepan, 21, of 2240 S. Kedzie avenue, who caught the biggest prize of the week, a $10 bluegill in Grass lake. Stepan is a little hand employed by the International Harvester Co.

Arthur Wyckoff, a truck driver, of 8019 Escanaba ave., brought up a bluegill in Channel Lake; and John H. Cavanaugh, 6051 Irving Park blvd., hooked a $5 crappie in the same lake. Cavanaugh is employed by the Northern Trust Co.

Bluff Lake accounted for itself by yielding a $5 bluegill to B. H. McCullough, 8015 Vernon avenue. McCullough is in the radio business.

Secret Identification
The tags were redeemed by the Antioch Lions Club. Dr. David N. Deering, club secretary, again stressed the importance of bringing in the fish with tags intact in order to qualify for the prizes. The secretary also disclosed that precautions had been made to guard against any fraudulent claims by providing a secret method of identification of tags.

All of the big fellows carrying tags worth from $50 to $200 are still at large. There is talk of staging a coronation ceremony here when one of the bigger fish is caught and the crowning of the lucky angler as "King of the Fishermen." Such king will remain king until deprived of the honor by some bigger and better catch by another fisherman.

An additional release of prize fish, carrying tags worth about $500 will be made here on June 19 by the Chicago Evening American, and as an added lure to anglers, the famous "Oscar" and "Fanny," worth $1,000 and $500, respectively, may be found in the local lakes. The 1938 total of approximately $4,000.00 is the richest purse ever offered to fishermen.

Sorrowful Mother Novena to Be Held at St. Peter's During Summer Months

The famous Novena in honor of Our Sorrowful Mother will begin at St. Peter's Church, Antioch, Friday evening, June 10, at 8 o'clock. It will be held every Friday evening thereafter, Father Lawrence Calkins of the Service order will have charge of the opening services.

The popularity of this Novena service is extraordinary. In Chicago at one church thirty-two services are necessary to accommodate the crowd which, on one day alone reaches the tremendous total of seventy thousand. One of these services is broadcast from Our Lady of Sorrows Church in Chicago every Friday night at ten o'clock. As there are a number of people who would like to come to the Lake Region Friday evening but who would remain in Chicago so as not to miss their regular Novena devotion it was thought advisable to have the services in Antioch also for their convenience. At the same time, the permanent residents of this region and adjacent sections in Wisconsin will also benefit by having the services near home.

AUXILIARY UNIT TO ELECT JUNE 10

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected by the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary at its next meeting to be held in Legion Hall on the evening of June 10.

SEEK "DEATH PENALTY" JURY FOR HANCOCK MURDER DEFENDANTS

Call New Venire as Trial of Torture Slayers Begins

State's Attorney Charles E. Mason and Assistant State's Attorney George W. Field today were still in quest of a jury willing to return a verdict that may send Mike Karapouranos, 52, of Racine, and Joseph Russo, 24, of Chicago, to the electric chair for the torture slaying of William Hancock of Antioch on April 12, 1932. Meanwhile defense attorneys, Milton A. Kallis and G. E. Painter for Karapouranos, and Harold Levy for Russo, were examining prospective jurors minutely for qualifications as "fair and impartial" jurors.

Two men, named in the murder and robbery indictments, have confessed guilt as accomplices and it was indicated by the state at the starting of the trial Tuesday that these men will be state's witnesses. They are Joseph F. Nemmer, 36, and Edward T. Leonard, 42, both of Racine. Nemmer has pleaded guilty to the murder indictment and Leonard has confessed driving the automobile from Racine to Antioch for the purpose of robbing Hancock here six years ago. The fifth member of the robbery and slaying party, Jerome Welsh, 37, of Racine, escaped extradition to Lake County through habeas corpus proceedings in Racine. It is said that Leonard had sworn to "get" Welsh several years ago when Leonard was convicted of an auto theft.

After exhausting the first special venire of 75 prospective jurors, an additional special venire of 50 was called to Judge Ralph J. Dady's court yesterday.

BLAME FOG FOR DEATH OF FIVE AT GRADE CROSSING

The worst grade crossing tragedy in Lake county in years occurred early Sunday morning when five young people, all residents of the county, were killed when their automobile collided with a freight train at the Route 173 crossing of the Chicago and Western railway. A sixth occupant of the automobile is in a serious condition in Victory Memorial hospital.

The dead are: Peter Wesner, aged 19, of 1509 Garden Place, Waukegan; Bessie Rittenhouse, aged 14, of Zion; Sergissa E. Miller, aged 17, of Wadsworth road, west of Zion; Cecilia Hookstra, aged 16, of Newport township, and Robert Jackson, aged 22, of 814 Helmholz avenue, Waukegan.

John Wood, aged 18, of 433 Fulton avenue, was the sole survivor. He is suffering from a fractured arm and internal injuries. The six young people had attended a dance in Antioch and with Jackson at the wheel were driving home. The freight train was obscured by a fog. The car crashed into the side of a south bound freight train and was hurled upon the north bound tracks where it was hit by a freight train coming from the other direction.

25 Killed in State
Twenty-five persons met violent death in Illinois during the Memorial day week-end. Seventeen died in traffic accidents, four were shot to death in Chicago and four were drowned. Last year 16 persons were killed and 400 injured on Memorial day which fell on Sunday. In the two-and-a-half day holiday including the preceding Saturday afternoon and the following Monday, 28 persons were killed and 700 injured.

ANTIOCH OVER THE TOP IN POPPY SALES

Antioch citizens bought their quota of poppies here Saturday at the annual poppy day sale conducted by the American Legion Auxiliary for the benefit of disabled war veterans and the families of veterans. The local unit was allotted 1125 poppies. All were sold.

The little flowers sold each year just preceding Memorial day are replicas of the flowers growing on the battle fields of France. They are made by disabled war veterans in hospitals, and for many of them this is the only way they have of becoming at least partially self-supporting.

Mrs. Earl Pittman, poppy day chairman for the local Auxiliary, and Mrs. W. W. Ward, president, expressed themselves as being well pleased with the success of the sales in Antioch, and the Auxiliary members are grateful to those who bought flowers and to those who assisted with the sales.

SENIORS OBSERVE IVY DAY TUESDAY

The beautiful Ivy Day ceremony was held on the front lawn of the high school on Tuesday morning with the seniors in full regalia. The custom of planting the ivy was again enacted by the following people: Russell Doolittle, Class President; Parker Hazen, Bearer of the Ivy; Virginia Ames, Prophet; Vileta Baethke, Alma Mater; Jack Riddel, Spade Bearer; and George Hawkins, Sealer.

The symbolism of this traditional ceremony may best be expressed through the following song, which the seniors sang at the close of the program:

"Juniors, to you we leave this sacred custom,
Hoping you will carry it on.
Symbol of faith, true industry, and courage

May the ivy be to you."

Bernard Osmond, present Student Council President, conferred that office upon Winsor Dalgard, who had been elected to fill it for the next year. At the same time, Miss Elizabeth Webb awarded the Good Citizenship Medal of the D. A. R. to Betty Grimes, who also had been chosen by student vote.

Music for the processional and recessional was furnished by the high school band.

What Is Dishonesty?

Scandal mongers will in all likelihood be disappointed in the coming investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority. As Garet Garrett recently pointed out in an article in the Saturday Evening Post, "There is no black bag." Nobody has stolen vast sums of money.

The dishonesty involved in the TVA controversy is of a far more serious nature than simple embezzlement or theft of money. It involves the very integrity of government itself.

For example, the preamble to the act itself, creating the Tennessee Valley Authority, dedicates TVA to the job of developing agriculture, flood control, redeeming marginal lands, providing for the national defense and other patently constitutional undertakings. But, to quote Mr. Garrett: "Not a word about electric power in the preamble. Yet one-third of the entire text is devoted to the development and sale of power." Is this dishonesty in government?

Ever since its inception, the Tennessee Valley Authority has pursued policies of outright destruction in all dealings with private electric utilities. It has built tax-free, publicly subsidized, competing facilities and negotiates with the private utilities in the Tennessee Valley only on a forced sale basis. That is, if the private companies refuse to sell out at an arbitrary price, TVA, backed by the fist of government, promises to drive them out of business and wreck the investments of hundreds of thousands of stock holders, meanwhile carefully shying away from condemnation proceedings that would result in a fair and impartial settlement in court. Is this not sharp practice?

Most important of all, TVA is an insidious wedge that is introducing socialism in the United States unknown to the average voter. And this alone represents neither honesty nor decency in public life.

Wisdom from Youth

Some time ago a high school class in a farming community was asked to write essays on various farming problems. One boy wrote, in part: "Two things are necessary to help dairymen. First, farmers need better organization; second, farmers need more education about marketing problems."

That is as true as it is simple—and it applies to all other branches of agriculture. Farmers who scientifically develop and serve markets, and who are represented by well-financed, efficiently managed and loyally supported marketing organizations are, in the long run, prosperous and progressive farmers. They will face fewer periods of crisis than other, disorganized farmers—and in good times and bad they will earn a better livelihood. Marketing co-operation simply means putting agriculture on a business basis, which eliminates hit-and-miss methods, and so far as possible guarantees that the producer will have a profitable market for what he raises.

Guide to Traffic Safety

Police departments undertaking the vitally important problem of traffic engineering, now have a guide to standard procedure. A new handbook, entitled, "Traffic Engineering and the Police," has been published jointly by the National Conservation Bureau and the Safety Division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Its publication rounds out another section of the Bureau's comprehensive traffic control program undertaken on behalf of the nation's leading stock casualty insurance companies.

Much of the handbook is devoted to the use of traffic engineering methods to reduce hazard at accident-prone locations—those spots in a traffic community where accidents occur most frequently. An exhaustive system for analyzing danger spots is explained, and the correct use of traffic engineering devices and methods to remove hazards is detailed.

Other sections of the handbook deal with stop signs of various types, the proper control of traffic on business streets and residential streets, etc. An appendix explains in detail how to make traffic engineering field studies. The materials and illustrations presented have never before appeared in print.

Single copies of "Traffic Engineering and the Police" will be sent free to municipal and state officials, upon request to the National Conservation Bureau, 60 John Street, New York City. It is believed that the widespread use of the handbook will be reflected in a substantial decline in accidents, injuries and deaths.

Tax Sanity vs. Tax Insanity

It is interesting to compare the tax policy pursued by the federal government in a previous depression with that pursued now. According to Godfrey N. Nelson of the New York Times, "The depression of 1921 was not only effectively checkmated but wholly overcome by repealing the post-war excess profits tax, by adopting the privilege of carrying forward net business losses as deductions from income of two succeeding taxable years, by limiting the tax on capital gains to 12 1/2 per cent, without limitation of deductions as to capital losses, and by reducing the individual surtax rates."

It's a far cry from that program of tax sanity to the program of tax insanity that is plaguing the country now. Instead of helping business to combat depression by wise tax reform, we have steadily weakened business' capacity to fight bad times, by-heaping it with new and increasingly punitive levies. If that the reason the depression of 1921 was short-lived—while the current depression, after nine long years, grows steadily more severe?

Found Long Lost Orchid
Once one of the rarest orchids in the world, the Cypripedium, or Venus' foot—known to gardeners as lady's slipper—dwindled in numbers to such an extent that at one time there was only one specimen known to be in existence in the Western hemisphere. No one knew where the original collector had stumbled across the rarity, and a London firm offered 1,000 pounds for a specimen of the "lost" orchid. After a lapse of years a civil engineer working in Nepal came across the long-sought bloom growing profusely in the tropical jungle. He sent a number of plants to England, where they grew and flourished.

The British Parliament
Like the congress of the United States, the British parliament legislates for the whole British nation. But in addition to this, it takes the place of the separate legislative bodies that used to exist in Scotland and Ireland, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland, such as in this country can only be made by state legislatures. With regard to the Dominion of Canada, the Australian provinces, and other colonial possessions with legislatures of their own, the powers of parliament are somewhat analogous to those of congress over the states.

Oldest Underground Railway
The oldest underground railway in the world is the Metropolitan railway, London. It was opened in 1863 and was electrified in 1905.

Lesson for June 5

SERVING BY PERSONAL
DEVOTION TO CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:31, 27-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—She hath done what she could—Mark 14:8.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Mary's Present to Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Mary's Love Gift.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Showing Our Love to Christ.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
The Heart of Christen Service.

"The love of Christ constraineth us" (II Cor. 5:14) was the all-sufficient moving force back of the greatest life of service rendered by any man. It is this personal devotion to the One whom we love "because he first loved us" (I John 4:19), which makes Christianity "different from all other religions. Christianity alone acts through this natural and deep hunger of mankind with a personalized religion which can be a satisfying joy and pleasure. Yet at this point Christians fall the most and make difficult the work of serving Jesus. They see religion as a job to be done, a form to be observed, a duty to be fulfilled" (W. R. Kiang).

We need to renew that devotion to Christ which expresses itself in true worship. Prayer is too often asking for things; praise, thanking for things (unless we become so engrossed with them that we forget to return thanks); and worship, which is a coming to God in adoration and thanksgiving for what He is rather than what He can give, is forgotten. Our Heavenly Father wants us to show love toward Him. The act of Mary was pure personal devotion and worship, and its fragrance lives to this day.

I. Wasted—But Eternally Saved (vv. 3-9).

The dark hours of betrayal and death were before our Lord. All around Him was hostility. Even in the inner circle of the disciples there was misunderstanding and bickering. Mary (to be distinguished from the sinful woman of Luke 7) with the quick intuition of an understanding woman's heart knew what He was passing through, and with a magnificent act of love stood by Him in the fellowship of His sufferings. Dr. Morgan points out that it was "an impulsive act . . . born of the predilection of love daring not to calculate." In the words of verse 9, Jesus declared that the gospel and that which this woman had done were to "stand side by side with each other forever." That keen intuition of love, that uncalculating outpouring of love, was Godlike, and an act in fellowship with the act of God by which a world is redeemed.

Judas, who was a thief, said she had wasted money that should be used for the poor (John 12:6). The other disciples thought well of his argument and murmured against her. But Jesus commended her. To be thrifty and frugal is commendable, but there are times when the heart should speak without being silenced by the drawing of purse strings.

II. Saved—But Eternally Lost (vv. 10, 11).

Judas betrayed Jesus for thirty pieces of silver. He "made" some money. The fact that he did it by betraying the Son of God may be worse in degree but is not worse in kind than the betrayal of the youth of our land by those who make merchandise of their eternal souls. A recent news item from England declared that church organizations were making money out of properties publicly known as centers of prostitution. The leaders deplored the situation, but said they could not prevent it without losing the income of the property. Why not lose every cent rather than be party to the betrayal of any man or woman?

III. Bold Words—But Weak Actions (vv. 27-31).

Verses 12-26 tell of the gathering of the Lord and His disciples for their last passover and for the establishment of the Lord's supper. As they left the sacred meeting and went out into the Mount of Olives Jesus foretold His betrayal and His coming denial by the disciples.

Peter, quick with his tongue, and bold in spirit, spake swelling words of devotion and assurance. Sadly the Lord foretold his threefold denial of that very night. Again Peter and all the disciples declared their willingness to die with Him. They undoubtedly meant what they said, but reckoning without the weakness of the flesh they failed Him.

The lesson that is written large in this story for you and for me is, "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall" (I Cor. 10:12).

Complaining

We have no more right to put our discordant states of mind into the lives of those around us and rob them of their sunshine and brightness than we have to enter their houses and steal their silverware.—Julia Selon.

Fortitude and Duty

True fortitude I take to be the quiet possession of a man's self, and an undisturbed doing his duty, whatever evil besets or danger lies in his way.—Locke.

Lake Villa School Notes

Upper Room

We all had a very enjoyable time in Chicago on Tuesday, May 24, when we went to the Field Museum, the Shedd Aquarium, and Soldiers' Field where only two schools marched. The rain came down so we all got wet. We give our thanks to Roman Wagner, Mr. Hooper, Mrs. McLaren and Mr. Dixon for driving us to Chicago. We are all glad to get a vacation (including the teachers).

Don't forget graduation exercises Wednesday night at the church. Open House, Thursday, and last but far from least, the picnic Friday.

We played Druce Lake in a game of baseball Monday and won with a score of 25 to 20. A victory that made us especially happy was over Gurnee Friday. We won by a score of 13 to 10.

The dance recital was very pretty last night. The costumes added much to the performance also. We wish the children from our school the best of luck for their second performance tonight.

Primary Room

Barbara Tiede visited Lincoln Park Sunday.

Nineteen of the children in Miss Falch's room received "Reading Circle Awards."

We have been reviewing our poems and studying the lives of Stevenson, Field, Riley, Rossetti, and Lear this week.

LAKE VILLA

(written for last week)

The Sunday school will present a children's Day program June 12, and plans are already under way for a nice program.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell and daughter, Helen Ann, of Chicago, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr.

Mrs. Fred Hamlin visited relatives in Chicago over Saturday and Sunday. Her cousin, Miss Libbie Petru who spent the past week with her, returned home Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fish of Barrington were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Fish, over Sunday. The first drowning of the season at Deep Lake occurred Saturday evening when Frank Hansen of Chicago who was fishing with a party of friends fell from his boat and drowned.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sherwood who have been at their Florida home for several months, have returned to Lake Villa for the summer.

The Ladies Aid Society has planned an interesting program for the coming months and the first thing is a noon luncheon at Fred Hamlin's home, with strawberry shortcake as dessert. The date for this is Wednesday, June 15. On the first day of June Mrs. H. J. Nelson will entertain the Society and a speaker from Waukegan will conduct the devotionals. The ladies have set Thursday, July 28, as the date of the annual summer sale. So please remember these dates and plan to attend.

Mrs. W. Sommermeier is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Christensen and family at Plainfield, Wis., and her grandson, Gerald Christensen who has been with his grandparents for several weeks, has returned home.

Mrs. Schroeder's father, who is eighty years old, arrived last week from Denmark, to visit his daughter, and likes America very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burnett who have been living in the Atwell house, moved Saturday to Antioch.

Mrs. Nettie Frazier who has been with her daughter in Evanston for the last several months, has opened her cottage here and will be with us for the summer.

Miss Lorraine Hooper, a student at University of Illinois, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents here.

Mrs. Blumenschein's group went to Mrs. John Meyer's home last Friday afternoon for a "galloping" party.

The entertainment room of the school house was packed Monday evening for the dance recital given by Mr. Adair's class of Lake Villa, Antioch and Grayslake students. Everyone enjoyed the program which was very nicely done in spite of limited space. We hope that some day Lake Villa may have a suitable place where such gatherings can be held.

The free moving picture show attracted quite a crowd last Saturday evening in spite of cool weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Sonnenberg and sons spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shepard of Chicago visited their sister, Mrs. Edward Leonard, last Saturday.

Mr. Tidmarsh of Wauconda called on the Dan Sheehan and Wm. Sheehan families last Sunday.

Borlum, the Sculptor
Solon Hannibal Borlum was born in Ogden, Utah, on December 22, 1868. He studied under Louis F. Rebisso in the Cincinnati Art school and under Fremiet in Paris. He took as his early subjects cowboys, Indians and other figures of Western life, notable works being his "Last Round-Up" and "Burial on the Plains." In 1911 he completed his bronze, "God's Command to Retreat," representing Napoleon on horseback. Two statues of his in stone were unveiled in 1920 in the churchyard of St. Mark's in the Bowery, New York city. He was Y. M. C. A. secretary with the French army in 1918, won the Croix de Guerre, and later was with the A. E. F. in France. He died in 1922.

"Licking Cub Into Shape"

The phrase "licking a young cub into shape," may appear modern, yet a Twelfth century bestiary gives a vivid illustration of the process, for the bears' offspring are said to be born shapeless lumps, and then molded into form by their mother's tongue.

Notes of church bells can be heard clearly at 5,000 feet; and the sharp barking of a dog at 5,000 feet. A rifle shot is audible 6,000 feet, and a locomotive whistle 10,000 feet.

Free Manufacture Own Food

The food on which a dormant tree feeds and which causes it to grow is manufactured in the summer. The mineral salts from the ground are transformed in the leaves, which become food factories through the action of air and light. Part of this reserve food is stored in stems, limbs, trunk and roots. In the winter this reserve is drawn upon to sustain life in the cells.

Virginal Played With Keys

A forerunner of the spinet and the harpsichord is the virginal, an instrument played with keys which pluck the strings rather than manipulating hammers that strike upon the strings as in the piano. The music of the virginal is dainty, especially delightful.

Signal Horn From Tusk

An elephant's or elephant was the large signal horn of the Middle Ages, made, as its name indicates, from the tusk of an elephant. It was the instrument of knights and men of high degree and its loss in battle was considered as shameful as the loss of sword or banner.

P.S.—The Patient Died

AMONG many ancient tribes the cure for a headache was an operation called trepanning. The primitive "doctor" got out his flint knives and chisels—and cut a hole in the sufferer's skull, so the pain (or evil spirit) could escape. A simple headache, therefore, often proved fatal! Alice LaVarre examines a trepanned skull of a victim of ancient Peruvian surgery. Modern headache powders are really an improvement!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Illusions, Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Deceitful," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 29.

The Golden Text was, "Take heed that no man deceive you" (Matt. 24:4).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places" (Ephesians 6:11, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Evil thoughts and aims reach no farther and do no more harm than one's belief permits. Evil thoughts, lusts, and malicious purposes cannot so forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment. If virtue and truth build a strong defence" (p. 234).

The memorial service last Sunday attracted a very fine congregation, including a number of out-of-town visitors. We hope these will come again and bring their friends. Every vacation should include a worship program. Some of our summer friends plan to combine recreation with service, and have offered to become part of our teaching force in the Sunday School.

We will be thankful for several more with the same spirit. If there are those who sing, either as soloists or in chorus, we will appreciate it if you will make the same known to the pastor; Phone 6131.

Miss Belle Richards has become organist for the adult department of the Sunday school. This will relieve the superintendent of that extra duty. Thanks, Miss Richards.

How about your pledge to the church budget? Our church year is two-thirds gone. That means that at least two-thirds of your contribution to the church for this year should now be in. This is a good time to check up.

The girls of the Antioch 4-H club have been honored by having visitors present at every meeting they have held. Three guests were present at the last meeting on May 28.

Most Widely Inscribed Palindrome

The most widely inscribed palindrome, or phrase spelled the same backward as forward, is a Greek motto of 25 letters which means "Wash my transgressions, not only my face" and which is carved on the fountains of many Christian churches throughout the world. Collier's Weekly.

Byron Wrote Speedily

Lord Byron, the English poet, was one of those fortunate beings to whom genius came easily, and was therefore little appreciated. He wrote the book, "The Corsair," in 10 days, the "Bride of Abydos" in four days, and another while undressing after balls and masquerades.

Dangers Faced by Archaeologists

Very real are the dangers archaeologists often must risk. In Egypt they face sudden sandstorms, fierce heat; in Tibet, suspicious, hostile natives; in Central America, disease and deadly snakes; in most places, ordinary thieves, seeking valuable jewels of other civilizations. Yet their diggings have added page after page to ancient history, brought to light many interesting facts. Some of these: There were cities of half a million inhabitants in prehistoric times; Creteans, 4,000 years ago, had bathrooms much like modern ones; Roman boys scrawled slang on house-walls 2,000 years ago.

Flsh of Many Names

A certain fish in some states may be called a large-mouthed bass, but in other states the same fish will be called a green bass, a chub, a trout, a Welshman, a cow bass, a rock bass, a yellow bass, while bass, white salmon, and white trout. Altogether this fish is called by 40 different names.

Artist in Wood Forgets

Loss of His Right Hand

New London, Conn.—Loss of his right hand and illness which forced George H. Lincoln to relinquish his gasoline station several years ago resulted in giving this summer resort action one of its most accomplished wood carvers.

"Some fellows," said Lincoln, "lose a hand or a foot and think they are finished for life and that they can never do any more work. But I can do anything I want to. I don't miss that hand at all. Don't even think of it."

A farmer most of his life, Lincoln knew nothing about carving or turning wood. He began operations with a hammer and a saw and a knife. One of his first products was a small wooden chest of cedar with oak inlay. "That was made from an old fence post," he said.

Today his workshop is equipped with a lathe, joiner, circular saw and drill press, in addition to many hand tools. One of his proudest accomplishments is a seven-piece dining-room set, all inlaid, from red cedar and cypress. He makes table and floor lamps, pin trays, powder boxes, beads, rings, bowls, checker-board tables, cedar chests, tables and chairs.

World War Veteran Wants "Clock" in Head Stopped

Shawnee, Okla.—Charles W. Hester, forty-three-year-old World War veteran, said that after 20 years he was tired of being a human clock and wanted something done about it. With each pulse beat there is an audible tick-tick inside his head. The noise is discernible to listeners three inches away.

He was fighting with the American forces in France when a shell burst close to him. The concussion knocked him unconscious. When he awakened in a hospital, there was a rhythmic tick-tick, reminiscent of the noise of a clock, inside his head. The noise never has stopped. Most physicians agreed the shell disturbed some delicate brain apparatus.

"I've fought my best against this thing," Hester said. "But I'm losing the fight. It is making me an old man before my time."

LAPEL GADGETS IN PLASTIC MATERIALS

The latest thing in lapel gadgets for spring suits are "good luck" insects—grasshoppers, locusts, flies and beetles—designed in plastic material, in dull white or bright colors, by Vera Borea, according to a report from the Paris office of the Du Pont Style News service. Complementing a white evening gown is a bolero embroidered with scattered motifs in transparent, iridescent cellulose film, matched by a belt of woven cellulose film.

Man's Felt Hat Worn With Chic Tailored Ensemble

Tweed woven in the turquoise blue and strawberry red shades forms a severely tailored new ensemble worn with a man's soft felt turquoise hat trimmed with a band of red grosgrain ribbon. Very practical is the idea of buying a tailored suit of this tweed and another suit of solid color and making up a number of ensembles with the two jackets and skirts.

Quite a few of the suits seen are collarless and trimmed with three rows of buttons all the way down the front. Also unusually attractive are the tailored vests in contrasting colors.

Onions and Garlic Found Useful to Fight Disease

Albany.—Dr. Daniel V. O'Leary, Albany health commissioner, contends that onions and garlic are useful in combating infectious diseases because of their immunity to bacterial attack.

"The chemicals in onions and garlic," he asserted, "which bring tears to the eyes, are now found to have germ-killing powers."

The chemicals have been isolated by Dr. Richard E. Vollrath, professor of physics, and Dr. Carl C. Lindgren, chairman of the bacteriological department of the University of Southern California, Dr. O'Leary said.

"The Harbor Horror"

By FLOYD GIBBONS
Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY:

Frank V. Hann of Hackensack, N. J., is with us today, to tell us the story of the shortest sea voyage he ever made. It's a yarn that proves that all sea-going thrillers don't happen out on the ocean where the waves run high and the wind screams through the rigging. For this particular trip ended in adventure—and terrible tragedy—before the ship was out of the harbor.

It was at Halifax, on October 28, 1929, that the cruise started. Frank was first mate of the steamer "Larking," which was due to sail that night. It was a dark, cloudy day, and the loading gang was working at a fast pace to finish while it was still light.

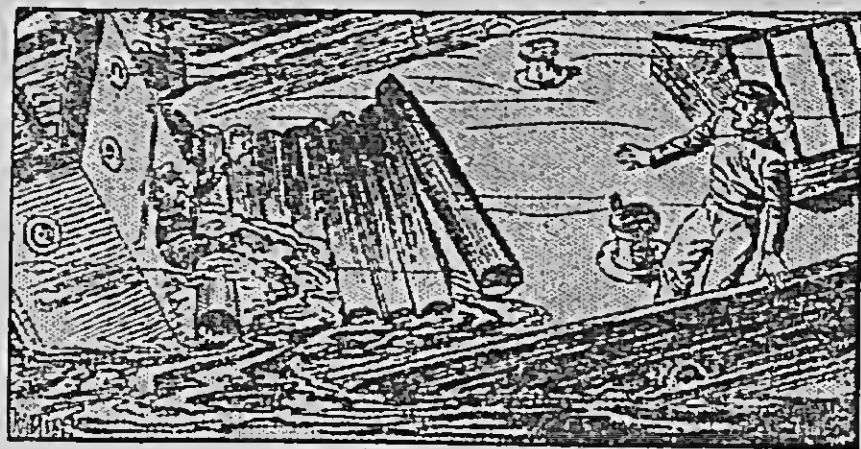

There were only a few cases left to come aboard, when word came from the company agent that the two carloads of iron pipe had to be loaded. The holds were full, and the only available space for that pipe was on the open deck, but orders were orders and the pipe had to come aboard.

The pipe arrived and the gang started loading it on the after deck. That pipe was to give Frank Hann the most terrible moments of his life.

It Was a Bad Night for Navigation.

The ship finally got under way, but darkness shut down just as they cleared the dock. A drizzling rain had started to fall, and visibility was poor. Traffic in the channel seemed to be unusually heavy that night, and navigation on those dark, murky waters was dangerous. Whistles or tugs and harbor craft were blowing on all sides. Lights were hard to distinguish through the rain. But the "Larking" got along all right until it was almost clear of the harbor limits.

Then, suddenly, the officer on watch spied a small light directly ahead. He called Captain Williams' attention to it and the captain, after studying it for several seconds, made out a dark mass on the water, decided it was a tow boat. He gave an order to alter the ship's course slightly to port. The ship's whistles were blown to signal the tug. The captain figured—and rightly—that he would clear the tug by thus altering his course, but a minute later—too late—the men on the bridge saw a number of mud scows being towed along behind the tug, and the ships headed straight for them!

The captain ordered, "full speed astern," but that helped mighty little. Before the momentum of the ship could be checked they struck the hawser between the first and second scows. The second scow swung around against the side of the ship, and there was an ominous grinding, and a ripping of steel plates.

Big Hole Below the Water Line.

"For a moment," Frank says, "we were all stunned. Captain Williams shouted to me: 'Get below, Mr. Hann, and see how badly we've been hit and how much water we're taking.' I dashed down the ladder and came back to report a big hole in the side below the water line, with the water coming in like Niagara. Even as I was speaking the ship began to list. Captain Williams seized the tube and called down to the engineer, 'Have the men draw the fire and all report on deck at once!'"

Nothing in the world would save that ship. The boats were lowered and the crew clambered in. Frank and the captain were just about to get in themselves, when the captain remembered his papers and went back to get them. The ships after deck was almost level with the water by that time. Her bow was already under. And then a terrible thing happened.

"The captain had just come out of the pilot house," says Frank, "and clambered down the ladder to the deck, when suddenly the ship gave a sickening lurch, and Williams was thrown against the deck house. And then, as in a nightmare, I saw the iron pipe which had been stowed on the after deck shift with the movement of the ship."

Captain Williams' Terrible Plight.

"I saw Williams pinned to the deck house up to his knees by tons of iron pipe. His legs must have been broken instantly, for his eyes almost started out of their sockets. His cries rent the air as the chief engineer and I started toward him. The bow of the ship was under water, and moments were precious now. In desperation, we tried to move some of the heavy pieces of iron, but our efforts were pathetic."

"The sweat was pouring off our faces, and our lungs almost burst under the strain. Our task was hopeless, and to make matters worse, the water was already creeping up to our shoes. We knew we could never move that pipe in time, so we abandoned this effort and made a hysterical attempt to drag Williams—who weighed two hundred pounds—clear of the pipe that was crushing his legs. We took hold of his arms and tried to pull him loose by sheer force."

Then followed a scene that Frank will never forget. Tears were streaming down Captain Williams' face, and his cries were terrible to hear. "My God," he moaned, "why did you have to do this to me?" And then he began shrieking over and over again, "Get me loose—get me loose! I don't want to die!"

Says Frank: "I had never witnessed such terror in my life. He was half out of his mind by this time. Suddenly he clutched each of us by an arm, with all the fearful strength of a man bereft of his senses. We were standing higher than he was, but his grip was terrific. I knew he was doomed, and if we could not break away we were doomed with him. Already the water had passed our knees and was working up to our waists. Still we tried, with ebbing strength, to break away from him. But it was no use."

The water was up to their chests now. The ship would go under any moment. The water began covering the Captain's face. Still he hung on. It seemed an interminable time before his grip relaxed. Then Frank and the engineer, their strength almost gone, turned and swam to the waiting lifeboat.

So, in the calm waters of the harbor a captain went down with his ship and Frank Hann finished the shortest voyage he ever made.

Virginal Played With Keys

A forerunner of the spinet and the harpsichord is the virginal, an instrument played with keys which pluck the strings rather than manipulating hammers that strike upon the strings as in the piano. The music of the virginal is dainty, especially delightful.

Capt. Robert O'Neill, U. S. A., was stationed at Stove Tavern when the Civil war broke out. He led a company of Union troops in the defense of three plantations when marauding negroes attacked the owners right after the Fort Sumter incident. In the course of the skirmish—in which Union soldiers protected South-erners—he was shot to death. His grave is still decorated every Memorial day. That ceremony is probably the only one held on May 30 in the South.

It was believed generally that the shoe was thrown by a horse nearly a century ago; that its rider hung it around a branch, and that the limb grew around it.

It is a review and exposition of the International Lesson for each week, prepared by Dean Harold L. Lundquist of the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, a recognized leader in the nation's church work. Dean Lundquist has been active in teaching, youthful groups for years, thereby acquiring an insight into the needs of these people for understandable explanations of Bible passages.

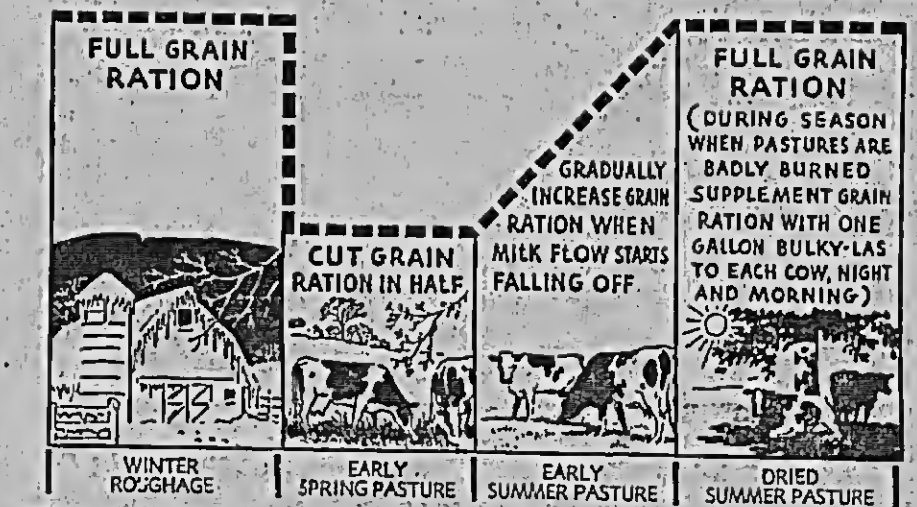

In view of his accomplishments in church work, it is not surprising that Dean Lundquist's exposition of the weekly Sunday School lesson is being used in almost every community of the nation. As teacher or student you will find it extremely helpful.

WISE DAIRYMEN ADJUST AMOUNT OF GRAIN RATION TO TAKE EVERY POSSIBLE ADVANTAGE OF PASTURE

When dairy cows were still more or less in their "original" state, and gave only enough milk to feed their calves, pasture met their entire needs. Not much was expected of them so little feed or care was required.

"While not considered sufficient feed for the modern cow, grasses and good pasture still play an important part in our present-day plan of dairy feeding," says W. R. Arends of the Dairy Department of Purina Mills, in giving his recommendations for handling cows on pasture. "Nature has put important vitamins and health-giving materials into grasses and no dairyman can afford to overlook the advantages and benefits of good pasture."

Modern Cows Highly Bred "The cow has come a long way since the time she gave only enough milk to raise her own calf. Man has taken the original dairy cow and, through breeding, management, and feeding, has developed her natural instinct to produce milk to a level where grasses alone cannot give her all the nourishment she needs for making milk and keeping up body condition. If forced to exist on a ration of various grasses such as her ancestors did the modern dairy cow with a 12,000-pound milk record bred into her would break down completely," Arends says.

Loss of Weight Costly "At the Purina Experimental Farm, every advantage is taken of grass in season. Green grass, as every dairyman knows, stimulates a heavy flow of milk. But the bulk, palatability, and juicy freshness of green grass causes the heavy milking cow to over-work. This invariably leads to a falling off in flesh and milk flow later in the season," Arends points out. "Loss of weight means the dairyman must spend extra money in the fall to build her back to normal weight for winter production."

"Loss of weight on a grass diet is easy enough to understand," Arends explains, "because over-stimulation takes more out of the cow than it puts back in. Additional feed along with pasture is an absolute necessity if cows are to come through the summer in healthy condition and give a full flow of milk through the cold months."

Pasture Must Be Supplemented "Our experiments at the Purina Experimental Farm show the necessity of supplementing pasture to keep cows in good condition. It seems that little attention need be paid to milk production when cows are first turned out on grass. The chief concern is keeping up the head's body weight. Feeds for supplementing pasture should be high in body building materials, very palatable, and bulky.

"On lush pasture the regular winter grain ration should be cut in half," Arends recommends. "Holsteins and Ayrshires should get about one pound of grain ration for every seven pounds of milk when pasture is good. Guernseys and Jerseys should be fed one pound of grain ration for every six pounds of milk."

Grasses Become Like Hay "Chemical analysis of pasture grasses shows that early season samples contain more moisture, and nearly twice as much protein as those cut later in the season. Crude fiber content increases as the season advances, and there is more calcium present. These are the chemical causes of the milk stimulating properties of early spring pastures," says the Purina dairyman, "and explains why milking cows do well on half the usual amount of winter grain ration when first turned out. As the pasture season advances grasses become more like hay, gradually the amount of grain ration should be increased until the herd is back on the regular winter feeding schedule."

Grain Increasing Necessary "Start working back on to the winter feeding schedule as soon as milk begins to fall off," Arends advises. "When pastures become burned and dried up the regular winter grain ration should be supplemented by one gallon of Bulky Las to each cow, morning and evening. This feed is palatable, laxative, and supplies the nutrients that dried-up pastures lack."

"Planning pasture programs to get increased grazing yields is a problem to which state experiment stations and county agents have given a great deal of attention. Dairymen should contact these dairy specialists and secure their help in building profitable pasture improvement programs."

HARTFORD SAUCE

(For Cold Lobster or Crab) 1/2 cupful of chili sauce 1 cupful of mayonnaise 2 teaspoonfuls, or more, of curry powder

Mix the chili sauce with the mayonnaise and beat in the curry powder, using as much as is acceptable to you. A larger rather than a smaller amount of curry powder gives the sauce its special savor for cold-fish dishes.

ROBT. TAYLOR AT KENOSHA THEATRE

Adapted from Erich Maria Remarque's best-seller novel of European's post-war chaos, "Three Comrades," which opens at the Kenosha Theatre tomorrow, presents Robert Taylor, Margaret Sullivan, Franchot Tone and Robert Young in one of the most touching love stories to reach the screen.

Although the Remarque story is placed against a background of the turbulent days succeeding the world conflict in Europe, it is primarily the drama of the devoted love between a man and woman. Taylor brings an increased acting power to his role of Erich, youngest of the three comrades, who returns from the front embittered and disillusioned to find new hope in his love for Patricia, stirringly enacted by Miss Sullivan.

Tone has his best part in years as Koster, who sacrifices his one love, a racing car, in order to raise the funds
